

GENDER EQUALITY, DIVERSITY AND INCLUSION NATIONAL OLYMPIC COMMITTEE GOOD PRACTICES

Leadership

Last updated: April 16, 2025

GENDER EQUALITY, DIVERSITY AND INCLUSION NOC GOOD PRACTICES

APRIL 2025

IOC International Olympic Committee

Co-authored by IOC Gender Equality Unit

Developed by the International Olympic Committee (IOC) with the support of the Gender Equality, Diversity and Inclusion (GEDI) Chairs with information supplied by the National Olympic Committees (NOCs), this guide brings together examples of initiatives being delivered by NOCs around the world.

Summary

Developed by the International Olympic Committee (IOC) with the support of the Gender Equality, Diversity and Inclusion (GEDI) Chairs with information supplied by the National Olympic Committees (NOCs), this guide brings together examples of initiatives being delivered by NOCs around the world.

Brighton Plus Helsinki Declaration Principles:

- Equity and Equality in Society and Sport
- Developing Participation
- High Performance Sport
- Leadership in Sport
- Resources
- Education, Training and Development

Target Audience:

- National Olympic Committees
- Sports Administrators
- Sport Policy Makers
- Coaches

Background:

This is the first edition of the GEDI NOC Good Practices, created for Olympic Movement stakeholders in line with the IOC Gender Equality and Inclusion Strategic Framework.

Summary:

It provides examples of initiatives that have been implemented by the National Olympic Committees to advance gender equality, diversity and inclusion in and through sport. It aims to inspire other NOCs adopt similar actions.

The initiatives have been grouped by focus area:

- Participation
- Leadership
- Portrayal
- Resource Allocation
- Diversity and Inclusion
- Cross-Cutting
- Safe Sport

Read the Good Practices Guide

Related Link:

IOC Gender Equality in Sport: <https://www.olympics.com/ioc/g...>